Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

Interesting repercussions and reactions are taking place with reference to sit down strikes. Our own state legislature is passing a bill to make them illegal, though why this is done would be hard to determne. There are plenty of laws prohibiting sit down strikes already on the California statues. From the simple law of trespass, a misdeameanor, to burglary, a felony, there is abundant law to forbid and punish sit downs on other people's property. But the law makers trade, we suppose, is to make laws, and regardless of whether or not there is an overproduction of law, our state legislators feel that they must earn their $1000 a year.

The effort in Congress to attach a rider to the Guffey Coal Bill, it seems to be agreed among eastern columnists, was an attempt to put the President on the spot. For the rider expressly prohibited sit down strikes in coal mines. John L. Lewis irately called several senators on the phone and told them how impractical sit down strikes would be in coal mines, and the rider was defeated by a hair's breadth, so to speak. But the President was much concrened, it is reported, because if the bill had passed and he had vetoed it would have been construed as lending aid and comfort to the sit downers, and had he signed it, with its anti-sit down rider, he would have been accused of flouting labor. Unfortunately the right or the wrong of the sit down strike appears to be very small potatoes in the big game of politics.

Another repercussion of the sit down strike, is not only the discovery that a small minority can force or throw a majority of their fellow workmen out of employment, but that this minority need not follow the leadership of John L. Lewis in sitting down. Any time they sit down however, anywhere, John L. Lewis in order to maintain his leadership must publicly, though he rages privately, sponsor their antic. Inside information seems to be that he is getting sick of it. The sit down in other words is getting out of hand. The Hershey chocolate workers who sat down and were evicted by an irate mob of fellow workers and dairymen who supplied the institution with milk, does the reputation of John Lewis no good.

But the real test of the sit down strike is on the ways, and is due to be launched in the next few weeks. Whatever may be the reaction of the public to the Chrysler and General Motors strike, and the captiulation of Big Steel to the C. I. O. the entire country will watch the contest between John L. Lewis and Henry Ford, with intense interest. For the unthinking it will be the major sporting evet of the year, for those seriously concerned with maintaining the authority of law and order it will be crucial.

Both Ford and Lewis have uttered their "defies," and it now remains to be seen which one will win. Ford says he will never recognize any union, and Lewis says he will, if he wishes to manufacture automobiles. And, it is just possible that Ford, known to be just as stiff necked as Lewis, may do the thing Lewis implies, rather than knuckle under in a matter of principle. He has no stockholders to consult, and can close his plants if he so desires. He could take what the colleges call "a sabatical year" off. And in the meantime we suspect, the carreer of Mr. Lewis would abruptly end, for by and large, Henry Ford is a greater and more permanent American hero than John Lewis. We have known men who, in their youth drove T models, and as they rose in the world they continued to buy Ford cars and trucks. Some of them who once rode in T models now drive Lincolns to be sure, but they still swear by Henry Ford. A man who has always paid his men, for the character of the work, the highest wages on earth, (the rate today averages a little over $7 for seven hours) is not going to be swallowed easily by John L. Lewis, especially as there can't be any question of wages raised. When Lewis really comes to grips with Henry Ford he will hear something from the back country. For whether it is true or not, the country believes that it owes cheap transportation to Ford and none other.

Of course, one's viewpoint is always colored. The individual is rare who can survey public questions with complete detachment, but by and large we suspect that John L. Lewis is waning in popularity and with him his ally and coadjutator President Roosevelt. The sit down strike, unrebuked thus far in Washington, and the Supreme Court controversy are slowly becoming linked in popular mind, and eventually the American people will place the blame where it belongs.

CALIFORNIA TAX ON SALES LEADS OTHER STATES

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—California's retail sales tax is the most effective of any such tax levied in the United States.

This was evident in a report prepared by the research division of the Illinois state department of finance, comparing results obtained in the twelve states in which sales taxes are in force.

Using figures for the last fiscal year, the report showed that California was far ahead from the standpoint of gross collections, with a total of approximately $73,000,000. Compared with this, Illinois, which also has a 3 per cent tax, collected only $64,000,000, including levies on food and gasoline sales. If these items were included in the California tax, the total for the year under consideration would have been approximately $91,000,000, state board of equalization officials estimated.

Ohio and Michigan, both with 3 per cent levies, were far below California in collections. Of the four states using the same rate, Ohio and Illinois have populations well above that of California, while Michigan's is slightly less.

From the standpoint of administrative cost, California was below the average with a rate of 2.39 per cent.

California was also far in front with a per capita tax collection of $21.86, and the amount of sales taxed per capita totaled $428.66, the report indicated. Michigan approached California more closely than any other state, with a per capita collection of $19.43.

NEW CITY HALL READY MAY 1

Charles Leiter, member of the City Council, stated today the splendid big new two story city hall in Nevada City will be ready for occupancy about the last of April or first of May. Painting started today and rapid progress is being made.

City Water Collector R. L. P. Bigelow and City Clerk George Calanan will have the spacious downstairs front room to the left from the entrance, as their office. Counters, tables, chairs and other office equipment will be conveniently arranged for them. The city council will also meet in this room.

All work was completed on the jail cells a day or two ago with installing the locks and they are ready for occupancy. Chief of Police Garfield Robson will have an office just back of the water collector and city clerk and in front of the jail cells.

An easy stairway leads to the second story where the Chamber of Commerce will have a large room for an office, while to the right an apartment has been arranged for the fire truck driver.

The fire truck will be housed in a large room to the right of the water collector and city clerk. Steel has been laid for reinforcement in the curbing and sidewalk at the entrance to the fire truck hall.

This handsome new structure was built with the aid of the SERA, and WPA later. These agencies of the Federal government supplied men and some of the material while the city supplied materials and some of the labor. It has taken practically a year to complete the building.

ALLEGED AUTO THIFE NABBED

Deputy Sheriff Dolly of Truckee yesterday brought Arnold Hamilton, wanted for alleged car theft in Lusk, Wyoming, to the county jail for safe keeping until the Wyoming sheriff arrives to take him east. Hamilton was arrested by State Traffic Patrolman Arthur Barrick yesterday as he entered California.

SPRING AND FIRST STRAW HAT IS HERE

Spring is here! could be heard on all sides this forenoon as A. E. Palker of Nevada City strolled up Broad street with his summer straw hat on. Radios have been predicting rain and more rain but Mr. Palker stated when he got up this morning he looked at his straw hat on the rack and thought to himself, "the sun looks pretty good, and I am going to force spring." At the corner of Pine and Broad he stood out prominently with his neat white straw hat among many felt ones and the sun shone cheerfullly.

PROVISIONS FOR SCALES MINE SENT BY SKIS

DOWNIEVILLE, April 12.—Reports of serious damage to the property of the Scales Mining Co. at Scales as the result of deep snows and heavy slides were verified this week by Supervisor A. J. Modglin, who made the trip to Downieville to attend the regular monthly session of the Board of Supervisors.

Supervisor Modglin made the trip from the northern camp by ski. He reports that at least 130 lengths of flume boxes have been destroyed by snow slides or carried away by high water, and that further damage may be caused by melting snow.

The Scales Placer Mining Co. of New York has spent many thousands of dollars in the construction of a comprehensive system of ditches and flumes in preparation for starting large scale hydraulic operations, this season and it is feared that the wrecking of the flumes will be a serious setback to their plans.

Future plans of the company have not been announced, but it is expected that a survey to determine the extent of the damage will be undertaken at the earliest possible moment.

Supervisor Modglin also reports that the Scales district is still completely isolated by the deep snow. He reports that the rescuers of Mrs. Cosker performed a prodigy of labor during their 35 mile battle with the deep drifts to bring their human cargo to a safe harbor in Woodleaf. Mail is still being packed in to Scales on skis, as are all provisions and supplies.

WILLIAM MORRIS TRIAL IS SET

The trial of William Morris, charged with assault, was set for April 27, this morning by Judge Miles Coughlin, acting justice of the peace. Woods asked for jury trial. Bail deposited by North San Juan friends, where he lives, was exonerated, recently following his arrest on a second charge of assault. His first alleged assault was upon Louis Woods, butcher and justice of the peace of North San Juan.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DINNER TOMORROW

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting will be held tomorrow night at the National Hotel. Every member is urged to attend. The ladies are invited and it is hoped that many will attend, for in this way they may show their interest in the community and work of the chamber.

At this dinner meeting the names of the new directors will be announced. A delegation from the Grass Valley Chamber is expected to attend to urge that a big sign be placed at the junction of California state highway 20 (Tahoe Ukiah) and U. S. Forty.

The dinner will be at the National Hotel and the charge is 75 cents. Reservations may be made at the chamber of commerce or at the hotel.

SONG COMPOSED FOR TUESDAY'S CHAMBER DINNER

Te following beautiful verses have been composed by Nevada City's well known poetess, Mrs. A. Merriam Conner, and will be sung as a dedicatory number to Nevada City and the Chamber of Commerce at the big dinner and party next Thursday evening. It will be sung to the tune of America.

Fred E. Conner, president of the Chamber of Commerce urges all to attend and make the meeting a success and also to respond whole heartedly in assisting Carroll Coughlan in making the dance planned for May first a splendid affair.

NEVADA CITY

Our city, 'tis of you
Neath smiling skies of blue,
Of you we sing;
We love your seven hills,
Your groves and sunlit rills,
Each charm our fancy thrills
To you we cling.

Our city, in past years
Home of the pioneers,
We love you well;
Through the dim halls of time
Sweet bells of memory chime
As we in song and rhyme,
Your praises tell.

Our city of the mines,
Sheltered by whispering pines—
City of gold;
Now through the days to be,
May we in harmony,
Guide your proud destiny
To heights untold.

DEAN WM. HOOVER OPPOSES 4-YEAR LOCAL COLLEGES

Denouncing the creation of a number of four year regional colleges in California, as proposed by bills before the state legislature, William I. T. Hoover, Dean of La Verne College, has written to Assemblyman Goeffrey F. Morgan urging defeat of these measures, as involving undue expense and needless duplication of facilities in higher education.

In his letter, made public through the Statewide Committee on Higher Education, Dean Hoover says: "Several bills have been introduced in the California Legislature to create more state colleges, and one university at Fresno. Of course every college in the state (except the tax-supported colleges) is against these bills.

"One of the chief reasons I am opposed to the proposition is the enormous expense involved. Everyone connected with the privately owned and supported colleges would be taxed to support these new institutions in addition to the numerous ones now in operation. I believe tit is not right to tax all the people so heavily to support highed education.

"We already have seven state colleges and two state universities which are consuming much public money; and to found more such institutions is to do an injustice to the tax-paying public. There are enough colleges already in the state to care for its youth—so why go to such enormous expense to the public to dpulicate the colleges and coures now offered?

"I am certain I am voicing the sentiment of hundreds of educators and thousands of alumni of the many privately supported colleges throughout the state. I express the vigorous opposition of La Verne College to these proposed bills and any others similar in nature that may arise."

The Statewide Committee on Higher Education, of which John L. McNab is chairman and Aubrey Drury is secretary, is urging voters to inform the state legislature as to the widespread opposition to duplicative four year regional colleges.

AUGUST FRANZENA SUCCUMBS

August Franzena passed away at the county hospital Saturday. He was a native of Italy, 53 years of age and had been at the hospital a month. He had no known relatives.

John B. Bardill came over from Reno, Nevada, during the week end to look over his mining interests in this district.

LOYALTON ATTORNEY HAS MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

CAMPTONVILLE, April 10.—Alfred R. Lowey, an attorney of Loyalton, narrowly escaped serious injury or death Tuesday evening when his car plunged over the edge of the highway half a mile north of town after turning over landed down the mountain side.

A short distance beyond the place of accident the light went out on his car, and being unable to fix them, Lowey thought he could reach Lang's garage by using a flashlight to drive with. The flashlight, however, did not give sufficient light and before he knew it, on this road of a thousand curves, he was hurtling down the mountain side.

The car was recovered Wednesday by Langs garage with very little damage having been done. How both driver and car escaped without injury is a mystery.

ANOTHER SNOW PLOW NEEDED ON TAHOE UKIAH

The Donner Trail association is making an effort to secure for U. S. 40 and U. S. 20 another snow-go for clearing those highways of snow in the higher altitudes. The association has dispatched the following letter to T. H. Deniis, maintenance engineer of the state highway board:

"A committee from the Auburn Ski club and the Donner Trail association would like to ask you to set a date when it would be most convenient for you to come to Auburn and discuss with them the advisability of the addition of another "snow-go" for use along route 40 and route 20. There is a necessity for considerable periods of time durfor the additional equipment since this past winter proved that another is required.

"The cities of Grass Valley and Nevada City were shut off entirely ing the winter from any connection with highway U. S. 40 through its juncture (20) with the said U. S. 40. We feel that the loss of this connection is a loss to these communities and to us.

"We would therefore like very much to discuss this matter with you at your own convenience and suggest that you advise us of a date when it would be convenient for you to come this way and meet with us and at the same time meet with either the Lions or Rotary of this city that you may address them upon highway maintenance and the plans which you may see fit to divulge for the repair of our highways as above mentioned. The writer will be glad to arrange a date and time for you and to aid in a warm welcome to you. We believe that both Grass Valley and Nevada City will be glad to see you and we would like to endeavor to arrange for you to speak there also and let us have the personal touch with you which we feel would be beneficial to a great number of people."

GARDEN CHAIRMAN WILL BE CIVIC CLUB GUEST

Members of the Nevada City Woman's Civic Club are requested to be at the regular meeting tonight promptly at eight o'clock, as a fine program has been planned. The business of the meeting will begin promptly at eight o'clock. The nominating committee will be announced, Mrs. Belnap Smith will report for the legislative committee and routine business will be taken care of. Following the business meeting Mrs. John P. Thille of Santa Paula, state garden chairman of the California Women's Federated Clubs, will be the speaker of the evening. Her visit here is at a most opportune time as due to the long winter season the Nevada City ladies are only now beginning to work in their gardens.

TOWNSEND CARD PARTY

What promises to be one of the largest card parties in Nevada City for many months is to be sponsored by the Townsend Club Wednesday evening, April 14.

Merchants have donated very substantial door prizes and also choice chair prizes for whist, auction and contract bridge.

Invitations have been sent to Grass Valley and North San Juan Club and a crowd is expected from both places.

MEN ON SKIS RESCUE WOMAN ILL, SNOWBOUND

DOWNIEVILLE, April 12.—Mrs. Thomas Cosker, wife of the superintendent of the Lincoln-Potosi mine east of LaPorte, Plumas county, rested comfortably at the Oroville Hospital last week after having endured the terrific hardship of a 35-mile ride on a sled through deep snows from the mine to Woodleaf, in Plumas county.

Mrs. Cosker was the victim of a heart ailment, and on March 31 her condition became such that removal to a hospital became imperative.

Twenty one mountain trained skiers were recruited, and with Mrs. Cosker securely lashed to a makeshift sled the hazardous journey over the mountainous snowdrifts was undertaken.

Fifteen hours of heroic toil, the skiers taking turns at hauling the sled, were required to negotiate the first 14 miles into La Port, as it was necessary to traverse the mountainous terrain where there was no trail. From La Parte to Woodlef the task was comparatively simple, as the route of the rescue party lay along a snow covered road.

MRS. C. C. SUTTON OF DOWNIEVILLE, HURT

Mrs. C. C. Sutton, wife of Dr. C. C. Sutton, county physician, residing in Downieville, was slightly injured Tuesday when the car she was driving got out of control and smashed into the rear of the Sutton garage.

She was backing out of the garage and lost control. The machine rolled down hill into the garage. She had several stitches taken in her forehead and suffered bruises.

SEN. NYE WILL SPEAK IN SACTO.

Charles K. Price, president of the Northern Section of the California Teacher's Association, announced yesterday United States Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota has accepted an invitation to speak at the annual institute of Northern California teachers in Sacramento next November. "Problems of Peace" will be his topic.

Senator Nye, a newspaper publisher, has been exceedingly active in Washington in making investigations tending to show the cause of American participation in European controversies and to bring out facts that may avert another American entry on the world war stage.

The institute in Sacramento, which teachers from nineteen northern California counties will probably attend, is scheduled for November 22, 23 and 24.

Price is arranging an outstanding program for the institute, and expects to complete arrangements for the entire session within a few weeks.

The Blind Patrol

The palpable absurdity of Europe's latest gesture toward peace merely emphasizes how helpless peace loving Europeans are to check the mad plunge toward war.

They're trying now, over there, to enforce a "hands off" policy toward Spain by setting up a sea patrol composed of British, French, German and Italian warships.

Of course the commanders of Mussolini's gunboats will just happen to be looking the other way when a ship laden with men and munitions for General Franco comes along.

Of course the French men of war will develop motor trouble about the time they sight a ship bound for a Loyalist port. And of course Hitler's gunboat commanders inadvertently "won't see" ships bound for Rebel ports.

And yet there it is, the blind patrol; the best that Britain, who will lose however the Spanish struggle comes out, could propose in the way of a move toward peace.

Suspicious of each other, protecting only their own interests, conniving with one side or the other, the members of the blind patrol take their stations solemnly avowing the purpose is to isolate Spain, whose soil is already red with the blood of soldiers of European powers "rehearsing" for the main performance, the next great war.

The blind patrol. It is a picture epitomizing all the hypocrisy, intrigue, and two-faced diplomacy that has put Europe on the skids and will keep her there as long as honor is lacking among Old World nations.—Contributed.

CRUSADERS GOLD MEDAL IS WON BY JOAN GRANT

Joan Grant, Nevada City high school senior, won the handsome gold medal for making the best address on: "What American Citizenship Means to Me" in the county contest held Saturday afternoon in Grass Valley. Competing for the medal with Miss Grant were James Bailey of the Grass Valley high school and Douglass Barrett of the Truckee high school, a son of the publisher of the Sierra Sun. All the addresses were excellent, but the judges were unanimous in awarding the medal to Joan Grant. The judges were William J. Cassettari, Judge George L. Jones and H. M. Leete.

Miss Grant will now meet the winners in eight other counties in the second contest at Marysville. This will take place next Thursday. If she is again victor in this event, she will meet other regional winners in San Francisco within a short time, and if awarded first honors for Northern California will receive the prize of a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, accompanied by her mother, with all expenses paid.

Crusaders is an organization which is trying by means of this annual contest to inculcate interest among the young people in good citizenship.

FIRST Repair the 250 Unsafe Bridges

Shall we spend the gas tax money to subsidize a few big toll bridges . . . all in good condition . . . when hundreds of smaller bridges are posted "UNSAFE" because funds are inadequate to repair or rebuild them?

Not if we heed a sober warning published by Assistant State Highway Engineer George T. McCoy, in the Official Journal of the Department of Public Works for March, 1937, which says:

"There are 3,280 bridges in the State road system and of these about 250 are posted as unsafe for smaller loads than those allowed by the California Motor Vehicle Act." These 250, he cautions, "should be replaced immediately" and "1,000 more should be replaced in the near future."

"Old, weak and otherwise unsatisfactory bridges are being replaced and repaired as rapidly as money is available BUT FUNDS ARE INSUFFICIENT TO ADEQUATELY TAKE CARE OF THE SITUATION," says Mr. McCoy. He estimates that $7,000,000 is needed immediately and $25,000,000 more will be needed in the next ten or twelve years.

Yet while these conditions exist, plans are being pressed to spend millions of dollars to take over the big toll bridges and maintain them from gasoline tax funds . . . instead of from tolls paid by the users.

We who own the Carquinez and Antioch Bridges oppose their acquisition. We ask the State to uphold its ratification of our contract to operate them till 1948, WHEN THESE BRIDGES WILL BECOME PUBLIC PROPERTY, ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Write your representatives at Sacramento to oppose further inroads on the gasoline tax funds for the maintenance of a few big bridges.

LET CALIFORNIA KEEP FAITH!

MILLIONS ASKED FOR NEW STATE BOARDS, DEPTS.

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

It is an old axiom of politics that a government department, once created, is seldom abolished.

The truth of the adage is being exemplified today in the federal government, where many of the "temporary" agencies which were established to deal with emergency problems of the depression threaten to become permanent ogvernmental appendages.

And in state government, the rule has been proved time and again, with sporadic economy campaigns invariably failing to eliminate, or even consolidate. Departments, it is true, often outlive their usefulness, but seldom, if ever, will department executives, or personnel, admit the fact. The fight for survival is carried on with grim determination and is usually successful.

In light of these facts, the deluge of bills at the present session of the state legislature, designed to create new departments and expand existing departments, is of vital concern to all California taxpayers.

Bills now pending before the legislature, if enacted, would establish some 40 or 50 new bureaus, commissions and departments, with salaries for executives running from $5,000 to $15,000 annually and with millions in additional appropriations required for their support.

Leading the list is a proposal by Assemblwman Donihue (A. B. 2521) to reorganize the executive branch of government by abolishing certain boards and commissions and establishing 12 new departments. The Donihue bill would set up new departments of Finance, Commerce and Labor, Law, Sanitation and Hygiene, Charities and Welfare, Correction, Care of Defectives, Public Works, Natural Resources, Conservation, Defense and Education.

The chief objection to reorganization programs, such as the Donihue scheme, is that the reorganization

A. B. 2212, creating California Homestead Rehablitation Commission.

S. B. 44, establishing California State Advertising and Publicity Commission of five members; appropriates $1,000,000 annually to advertise California.

S. B. 982, setting up Public Trust Commission of three members to regulate protective committees.

A. B. 1583, establishing California Employment Bureau for the Blind; appropriates $20,00 to aid in securing work for blind.

A. B. 1361, creating California Youth Commission of 13 members; appropriates $20,000,000 to aid in youth programs.

A. B. 1187, establishing State Home Loan Authority to finance home building with revenue bond scheme. Also A. B. 1876, creating California Building Authority to supervise state building program, cooperating with PWA; appropriates $20,000,000.

A. B. 952, setting up State Department of Revenue of three members. Likewise S. B. 801 would set up a Department of Revenue. Several other bills also deal with revenue department idea. In this same general group, A. B. 1581 would create Fact-Finding Bureau in Department of Finance. A. B. 1347 and 1349 would create State Board of Control, independent of Department of Finance.

S. C. A. 19, establishing California Water and Power Board of five members; chairman to receive $15,000 per year; appropriates $100,000 for investigators.

A. B. 1359, creating a State Department and State Board of Public Assistance, together with local boards, to study and handle all problems of public assistance; state board would have seven members, with director at $6,000 per year, local boards in each county would have five members.

NATIVE OF SCOTLAND PASSES ON

George Ritchie, 70 years of age, native of Scotland, passed away at the county hospital on April 6. He had been at the hospital about six years.

'SOAK MOTORIST' LAWS CONDEMNED

Widespread opposition is arising toward measures in the legislature providing for compulsory mechanical inspection of automobiles for a fee, fingerprinting of motorists, restoration of speed traps, and other features of a program proposed by the Department of Motor Vehicles, it was reported in a statement today by the California State Automobile Association.

The motorists organization, referring to the array of proposals as a "soak the motorist" program, quoted recent press comment as evidence of an adverse reaction aroused by the measures. Some of the comment follows:

"When Mr. Ingels (director of the department) goes to the legislature with a program that will cost California motorists millions of additional dollars piled on top of what they already pay—and this for objects of very questionable value—it is time for the car owner to sit up and ask questions."—Ukiah Republican Press.

"Why penalize motorists further?"—Roseville Press.

"The primary preventive force is the corps of traffic patrolmen. That body must be supported by public prosecutors and the courts. Passing burdensome and needless laws would be a tragic error."—San Francisco Examiner.

"It is a known fact that when speed traps were in operation in California their chief accomplishment was an increase in fines collected from unwary motorists passing through certain towns. They were not effective in the reduction of actual traffic accidents."—Fresno Bee and Republican.

"A very large percentage of cars must be machanically safe, as evidenced by the fact that a very small percentage of accidents can be blamed on mechanical defects. Putting another nuisance tax on motorists would be ineffective in so far as concerns the ostensible purpose of the inspection bills." — San Francisco Chronicle.

"The legislature should reject the speed trap measure in the interest of uniform enforcement of all highway traffic laws." — Sacramento Bee.

"It is manifestly unfair to saddle heavy expense upon all car owners just for the sake of forcing a few careless ones to keep their cars mechanically safe. What with all the other taxes motorists are called upon to pay, this would seem an unjustifiable burden in view of the meager results that could be expected from it."—San Francisco News.

"California is pretty cool to proposals for reviving highway speed traps and requiring fingerprinting of motorists."—Sonora Democrat.
